CONDITIONAL USE PERMIT

WHAT IS A CONDITIONAL USE PERMIT?

A conditional use permit is a special authorization to use an area of land, a building, or a part of a building for an activity that is not usually allowed in that location. It is granted after a review conducted by the Hearing Examiner during a public hearing.

A CONDITIONAL USE PERMIT CAN BE USED TO:

Allow a use that is otherwise not a permitted use in a certain zoning district.

These uses are either specifically listed as "conditional" in the zoning text for the district, or

They are determined to be clearly similar in character and impact to those uses that are permitted or conditionally permitted in the zoning district.

A CONDITIONAL USE PERMIT CANNOT BE USED TO:

- Permit a use that is clearly not compatible with the permitted and conditionally permitted uses in the zoning district, or
- Change the general rules that apply to all uses in a zoning district, such as the maximum building height or minimum lot size.

What is a "zoning district?"

A zoning district is an area of the city that is regulated by a certain set of rules, standards, and guidelines. Zoning districts cover all areas of the city. Zoning district boundaries can be changed by amending the Official Zoning Map. The specific rules that apply to a zoning district can be changed by amending the zoning text.

DOES THE PERMIT HAVE TIME LIMITS?

Once the use is established the permit generally does not expire, except that a conditional use permit may be conditioned to expire after a certain number of years.

The initial approval of a conditional use permit shall be valid for a period of 1 year after approval, during which time a fully complete application for a building permit must be submitted. This time limit may be extended where there is an approved phased development or separate development agreements have been approved. In short, a person must take proactive steps to initiate the use within one year of the approval lapses. (See Blaine Municipal Code, Section 17.92.070 for more details)
